THE STORY OF CIRCUS

Lion Rolling Circus is a freak and alternative circus born in 2009: the home built by a group of artists who were excluded by society and whom natural selection couldn't get rid of. Our circus meets rock—not as a genre, but as a lifestyle, a way of being without borders or trends. We don't inhabit any single timeline, but all of them.

Edgar Allan, Sexy Sadie, Ruby, Silverfuck & Jellybelly, Mr. Trampoline, and Tora Tora are the permanent staff, and they could build an atomic bomb if they wanted to. Their experiences are diverse and marginal—a troupe of characters who are very different from one another yet complement each other alchemically.

We create paraphernalia to enhance the smoking experience, taking it to another level. We care about the quality of what we make and what we consume: we want only the best. Fine, functional, and also beautiful products that honor the ancestral act of smoking. The gourmet and the elegant combined with the trashy result in this circus where the desire for pleasure is the engine of creation.

We are an Argentine export brand, present in countries such as the USA, Brazil, Uruguay, Chile, Colombia, Peru, Mexico, Guatemala, Spain, the Netherlands, Portugal, Germany, Luxembourg, the Czech Republic, Ireland, South Africa, and more. We are always expanding our horizons and taking the circus to new places. We participate in cannabis fairs here and there, making friends everywhere. We consider ourselves beyond borders and fans of the shortest distances—there is something that connects us that no border can define.

Lion Rolling Circus is high-quality paraphernalia, but also a lifestyle, because everything we do is strongly influenced by the culture around us—culture we feel part of: the tradition of rock, the spirit of reggae, the ritual of electronic rhythms, the soul of street art, and also the digital era.

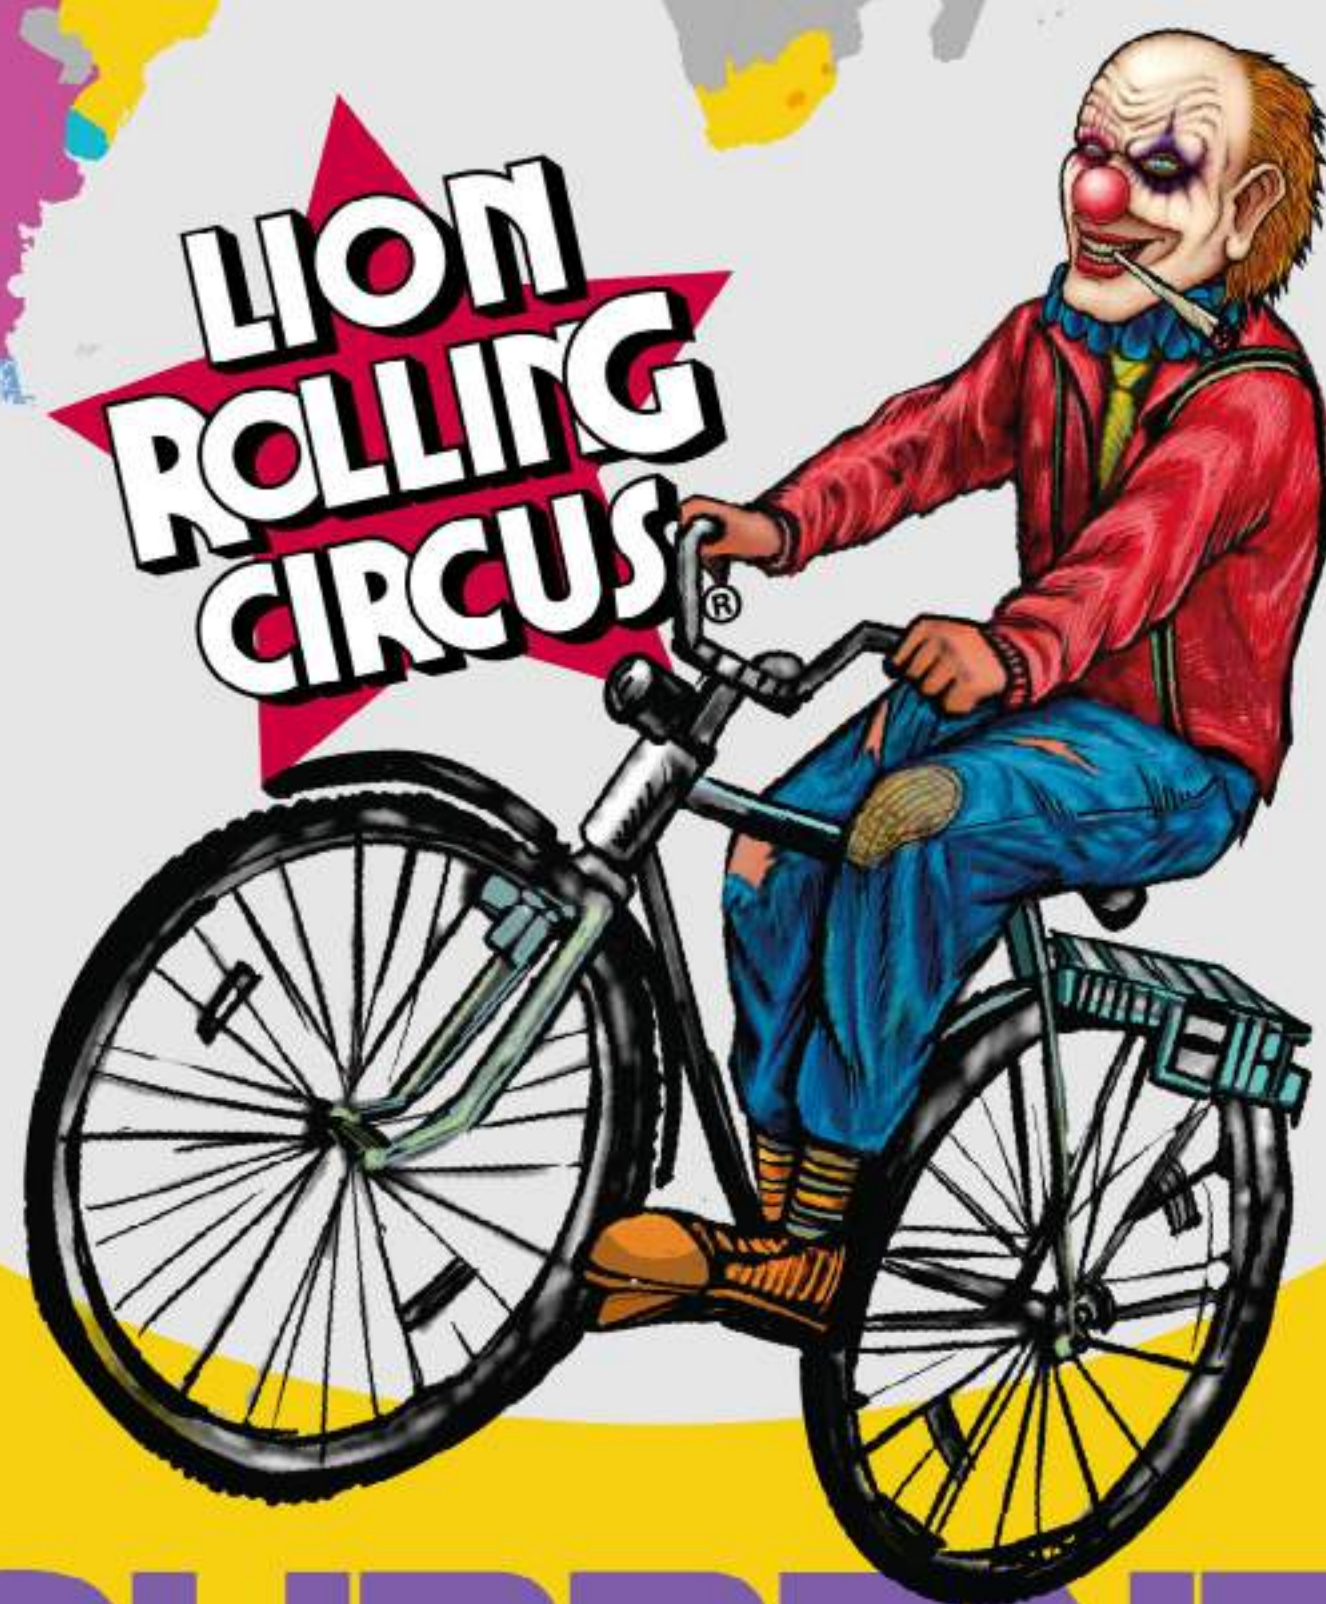

In addition to our permanent product catalog, we love collaborating with friends and artists to create unique and exclusive co-brandings and limited collectible editions with artistic concepts. Creative exchange is what keeps the circus spirit moving.

What we want to tell you is that Lion Rolling Circus was a madness from the very beginning, and what has always guided us is the goal of making this circus universe richer and more welcoming.

As you may have noticed, we're not a company that needs to pretend to be something it isn't.

We celebrate smoke, but we don't sell smoke. We don't like the "corporate" format so many companies love to adopt. We are who we are, and we do what we can—but we do it well because we know what this business is about. Every Lion Rolling Circus item is carefully designed to enhance the smoker's experience in a way that is both aesthetic and functional. Our pursuit is to create excellence, from the roll to the ashes.

We're people just like you who love to smoke and let the mind wander. And if there's one thing we know for sure, it's that the bigger the joint, the bigger the adventure.

He was abandoned in the parking lot of a supermarket in California. He was raised in an orphanage and was destined to become a priest. They sent him to Ireland to study the Holy Scriptures, but he soon replaced them with the words of Lennon, Jagger, and Hendrix, and devoted himself to the guitar. An electric shock during a show in the rain destroyed his face. That's how he became the typical introverted bass player. He is capable of reciting all of Poe's poems by heart.

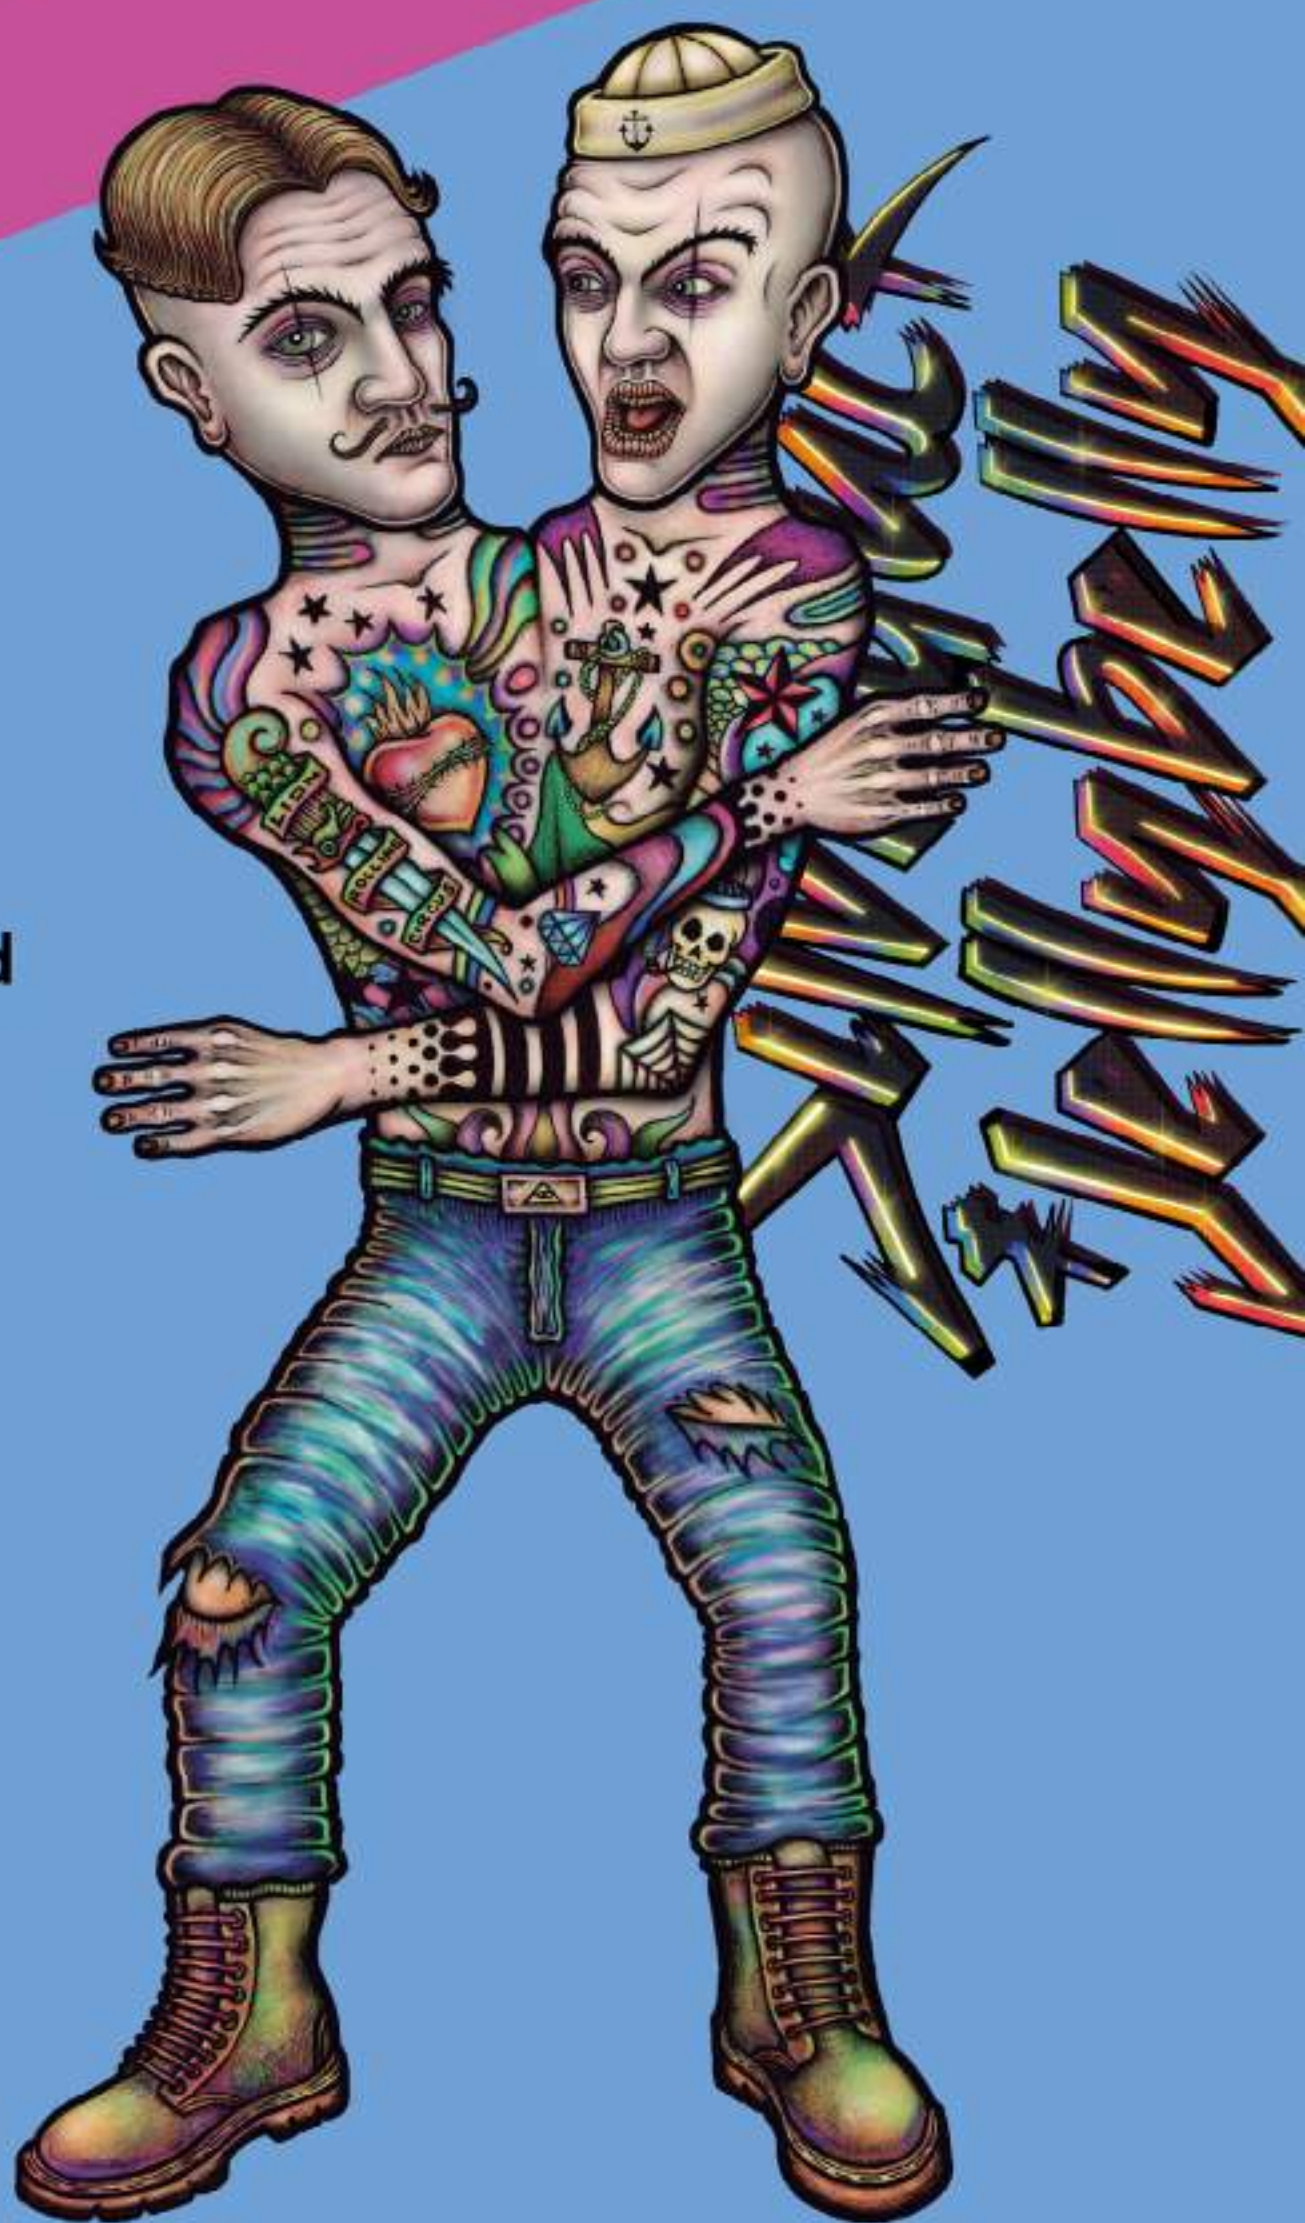

He was born in the Mexican desert, the son of a Yaqui indigenous woman from whom he inherited his sorcerer's gifts. He plays the guitar, but he is also a DJ capable of literally putting an entire audience into a trance when he takes control of the turntables. His upper pair of eyes are nothing more than rare stones, and he often flirts with the idea of eliminating his vision entirely in order to feel music as a fully mystical experience.

She is the typical daughter of Northern Europe. As a teenager, she used to shave twice a day. After being crowned a beauty queen, she began wearing a beard as a manifesto against sexism. Since then, she has become an anti-bullying and gender-violence hero. In addition to eating raw meat and cat food, she invented a myth about herself: she is the daughter of a virgin. When she sings, the space seems to fill with magical matter, and everything appears to move in slow motion.

Born in the former Soviet Union, they grew up between Liverpool and Marseille, where they learned everything they needed to become men of the sea. Like the legendary Siamese twins Chang and Eng, they are joined by cartilage, which means they are two people in one body, sharing the same reproductive system—something that turned them into a sexual myth. One smokes and the other doesn't. They are forced to live in perfect synchrony, which is why they are such great drummers.

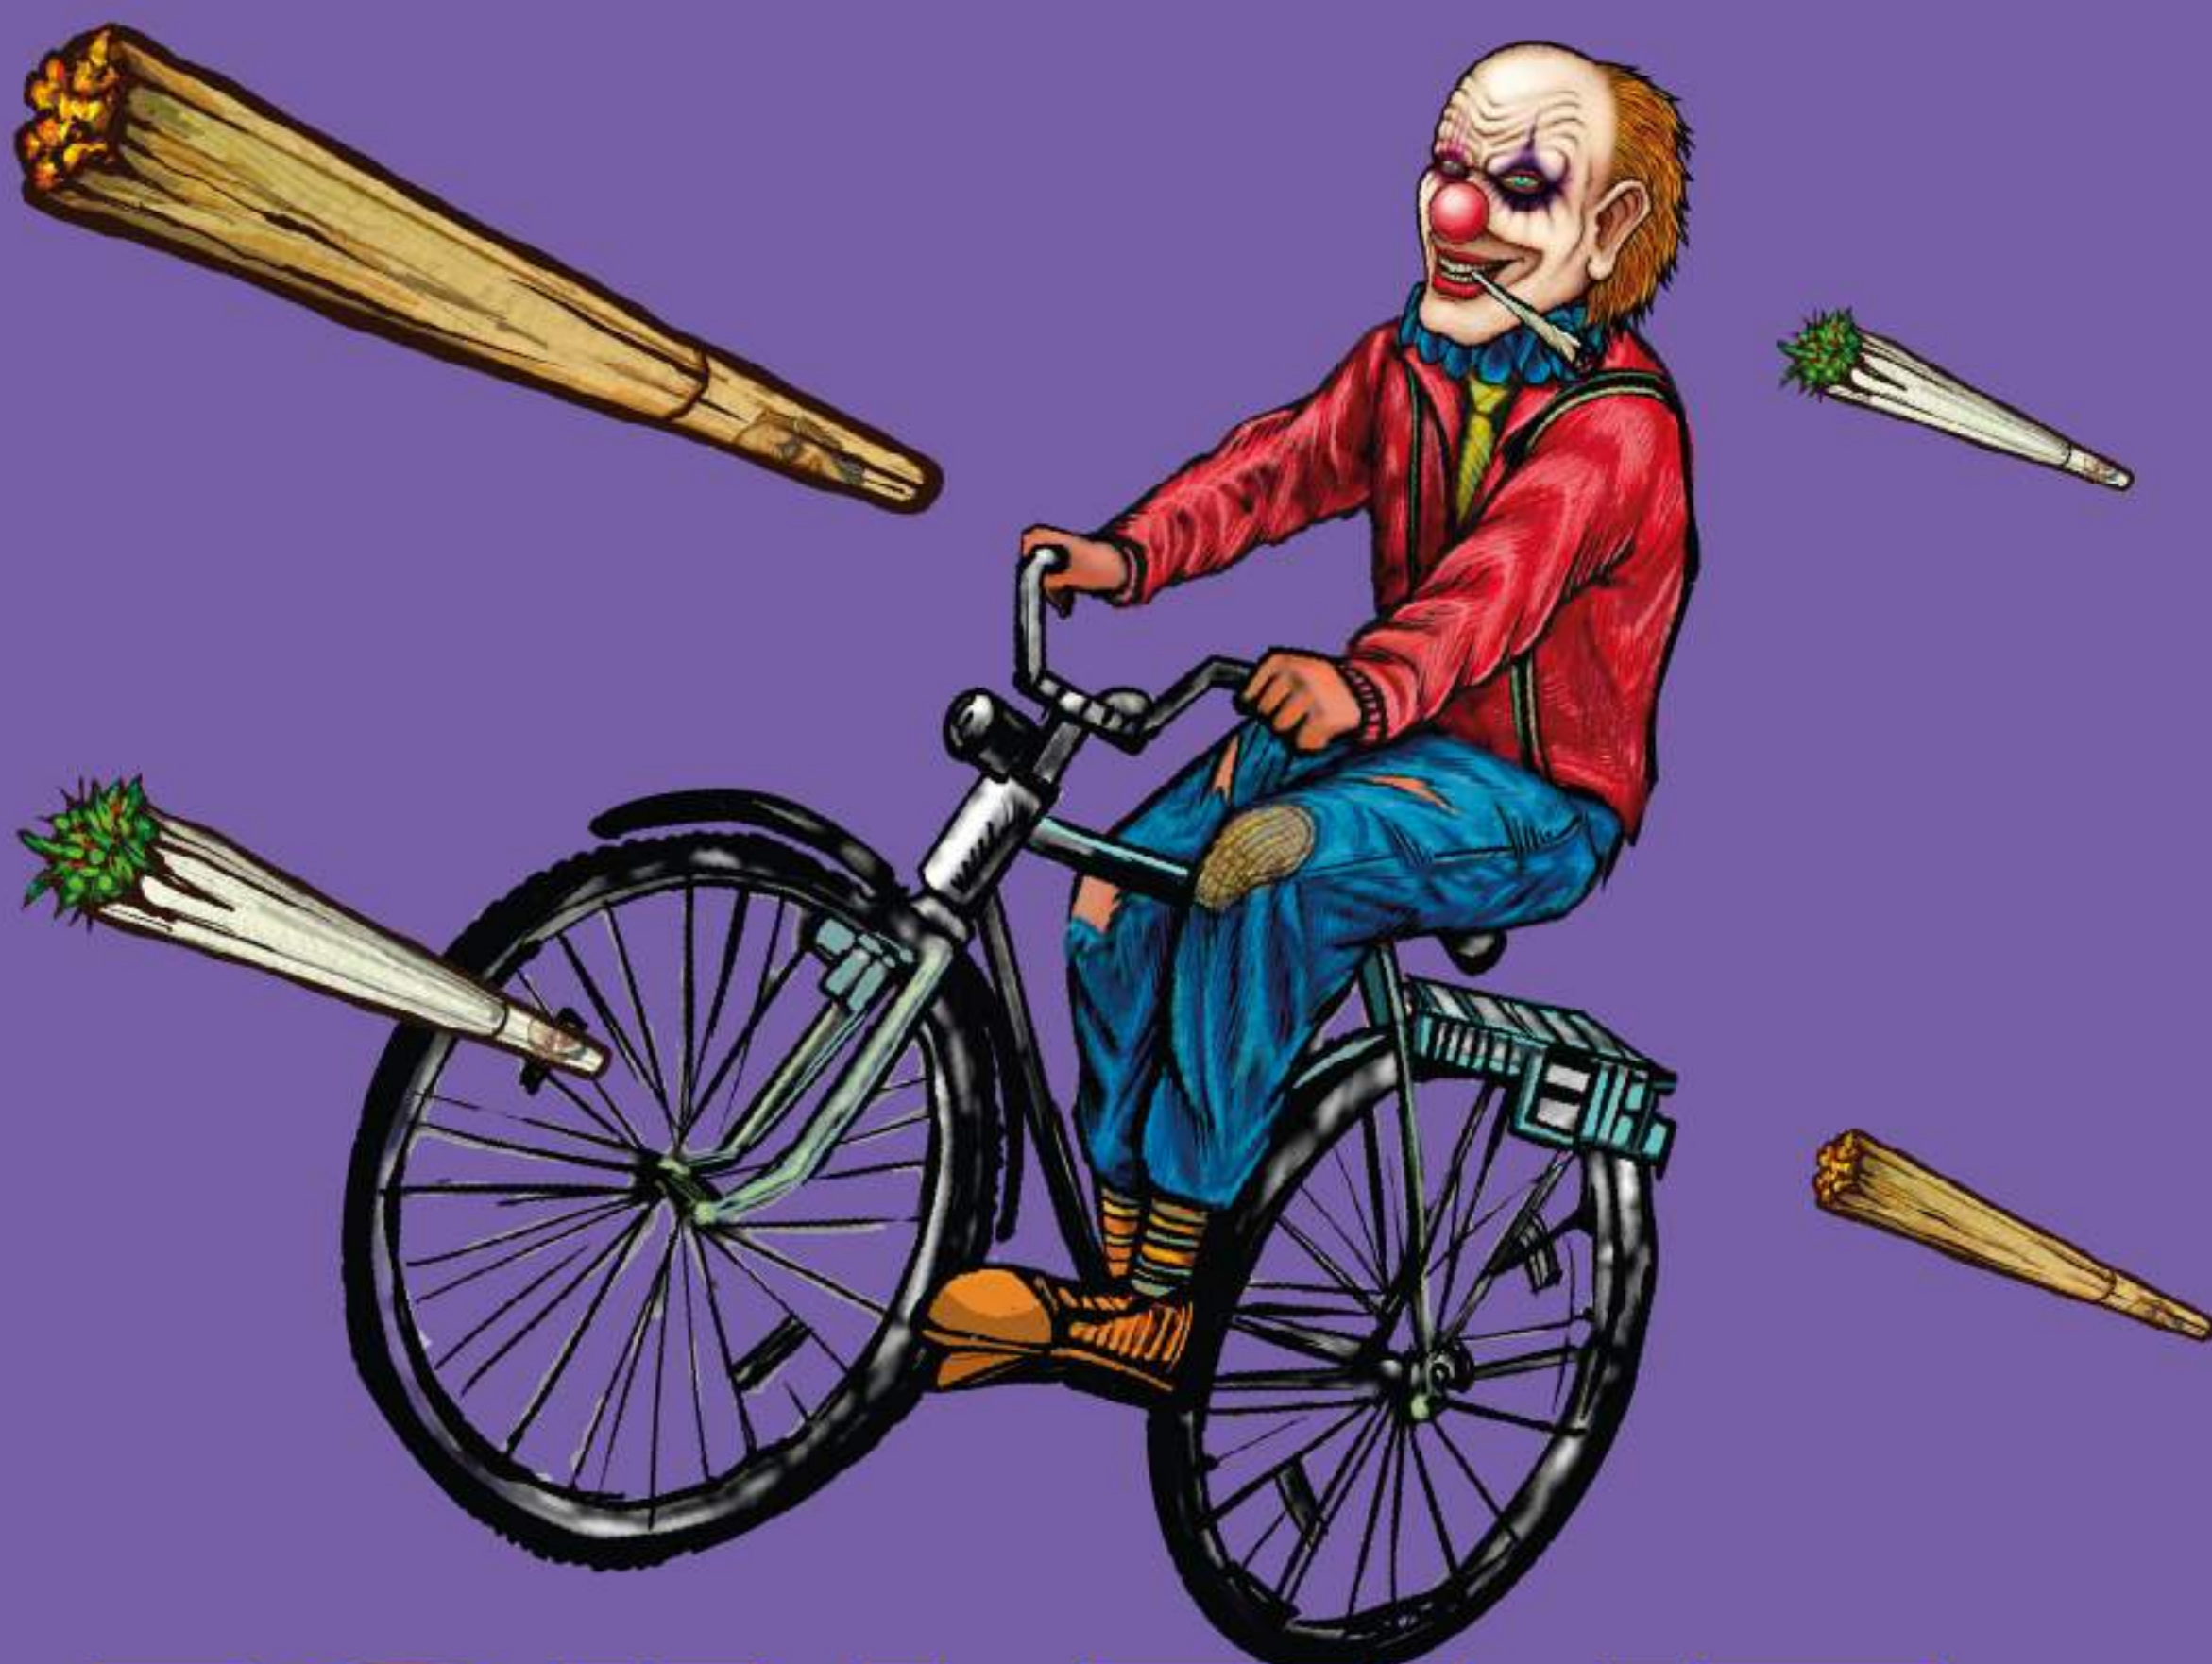

He was raised to be obedient, but fortunately turned out rebellious. He had plenty of talent for the piano, but lacked timing and discipline. They left him out—or he picked fights with the wrong people.

He has no religion, but he does have beliefs: he carries a lantern to guide his path toward truth and adopted an owl as a pet to absorb its wisdom. Perhaps he found that truth when he inherited an unlucky circus, which he transformed into Lion Rolling Circus.

Her name literally expresses her personality: a “lightning attack.” Tora carries within her DNA certain secrets of the rising sun, which is why she moves in a cat-like frequency. She has patience. And at the same time, she seduces and soothes—indispensable traits for gaining the trust of a beast. One thing she knows for sure: everything ultimately depends on the animal’s mood. In the meantime, she buys time and entertains the others. She knows that, eventually, the lion will end up eating her.
